EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Advanced Ear, Nose + Throat broke their business into three separate entities: ENT services, facial surgery services and a hearing clinic (Colorado Ear Center). Magneti rebranded and created separate websites for each business.

Colorado Ear Center experimented with a new business model — bringing people to a hearing center to buy hearing aids instead of purchasing them at a big box store. CEC needed leads, which was a challenge due to the competitive market as well as a lack of domain authority from a brand-new website. Magneti developed paid search ads and paid social ads to address the lead and domain authority issues.

ABOUT THE CLIENT

The Colorado Ear Center creates personalized solutions for those experiencing any level of hearing loss. CEC believes that treating hearing loss reconnects patients to their lives. Dr. Menachof and his team provide hearing aids and tinnitus treatment, as well as donate their time and expertise to programs such as the Children’s Hospital, Wounded Warrior, the American Heart Association, the Colorado Neurological Institute and more.

CHALLENGE

Magneti developed buyer personas for the Colorado Ear Center. However, it was difficult to target this very specific audience through Google AdWords.

The main content of the pay-per-click ads was a “hearing quiz” to generate leads. The quiz intended to be a self-check of hearing loss. One challenge in creating the quiz was making the results of the quiz both accurate and thoughtful, as hearing loss can be a sensitive topic.

SOLUTION

Magneti moved all of CEC's digital advertising to Facebook, which allowed much more detailed targeting of the personas. Magneti developed a simple yes/no "One-Minute Hearing Quiz." The quiz included questions such as:

- Do you avoid eating at certain restaurants because they are too loud?
- Does talking on a cell phone seem more difficult than it used to be?

The ten questions intended to analyze hearing loss in an accurate and empathetic manner. If the quiz-taker answered "yes" to fewer than four questions, he or she was encouraged to come to CEC for a baseline check. If the quiz-taker answered "yes" to four or more questions, he or she was strongly encouraged to come to CEC for more serious concerns.

RESULTS

Magneti began promoting the One-Minute Hearing Quiz on Facebook. Between June 2016 and July 2016, leads increased 850 percent. The leads per month decreased slightly at the end of 2016, due to both the holiday season as well as a decreasing audience size (as those who fit the CEC personas in the Denver, Colorado area became leads, the potential audience diminished every month).
